BOVEDA 320 GRAM

OPTIONAL HOLDERS FOR BOVEDA

Available in one, two or four pack holders.

DIRECTIONS FOR USING BOVEDA

Place Boveda inside the humidor, close the lid—and you're done!
Replace when the Boveda turns hard, typically 2-4 months.

CHOOSE RH LEVEL

% RH ON PACKET	ACTUAL RH IN WOOD HUMIDOR[1]
84	FOR SEASONING
75	71-75%
72	68-72%
69	65-69%
65	61-65%
62	57-62%

QUANTITY NEEDED[2]

HUMIDOR CAPACITY (even if it isn't full of cigars)	NUMBER OF BOVEDA
0–50 CIGARS	2-60g or 1-320g
75 CIGARS	3-60g or 1-320g
100 CIGARS	4-60g or 1-320g
150 CIGARS	6-60g or 2-320g
200 CIGARS	8-60g or 2-320g
250 CIGARS	10-60g or 2-320g

[1] NOTE: Due to varying humidor quality and ambient conditions, it's normal for the RH to stabilize a few points below the Boveda RH you're using. If your RH is lower than you'd like, you may need to use more than the minimum one 60-gram Boveda per 25 capacity.

[2] General Rule: You need one 60-gram Boveda for every 25 cigars your humidor is able to hold. For plastic humidors, use one Boveda for every 50 cigars the platic humidor can hold.

BOVEDA'S 2-WAY HUMIDITY CONTROL SOLVES EVERY PROBLEM WITH REFILLABLE HUMIDIFIERS

Boveda (formerly Humidipak) is a patented 2-way humidity control technology that's been optimized to work in desktop humidors. Each packet consists of a proprietary blend of natural salts and purified water enclosed in a vapor phase osmosis membrane, only allowing the transfer of pure water vapor—and nothing else.

No more maintenance and no more anxiety—ever! The fact is refillable humidifying products require constant monitoring, work, and maintenance. Not with Boveda. All maintenance and guesswork have been completely eliminated. Never again will you have to guess if or when to refill your humidifier—ever. Just place the minimum number of Boveda inside your humidor and you're done! No mess. No worries. Enjoy.

Boveda emits purified water vapor so there's no more need for distilled water. Boveda emits the cleanest, most purified water vapor available through its vapor phase osmosis membrane, which virtually eliminates any chance for your humidor to develop the bacteria, mold or mildew that are inherent with refillable humidification elements.

Age your cigars to perfection with Boveda. The most important factor when storing cigars is to ensure that the humidity level is constant, without peaks and valleys in the humidity. Refillable devices—gels, crystals, beads, PG solutions, and sponges—are all one-way humidifiers that can't achieve this stability because they inherently cause fluctuations in humidity each time they're filled and refilled. It's a never-ending process that limits the ability of your cigars to improve with age. Boveda, on the other hand, guarantees a constant level of humidity that never fluctuates or cycles—preserving your cigar's natural oils and sugars, allowing them to improve with age rather than degrade over time. When you're using Boveda, there's a good chance you'll discover nuances and flavor in your cigars that you never experienced before.

Choose the RH level you prefer. For the first time, you have the luxury of choosing the level of humidity you want, according to personal preference or the seal quality of your humidor. For cigar storage and aging, Boveda is available in 62, 65, 69, 72 and 75 percent—with 84 percent available exclusively for humidor seasoning. Furthermore, Boveda is completely safe for direct contact with your cigars. In a properly seasoned humidor, using one Boveda per 25 cigars the humidor can hold, Boveda will last 2–4 months depending on conditions and humidor quality.
